

How to recognise a fraud tutor/tutress?

Do you know, if you take a tutor/tutress from an Ad on newspaper, he/ she may be a FRAUD TUTOR?

What a fraud tutor/tutress means? A fraud tutor/tutress is one who hide his/ her real university/college name, or their real name or change mobile number on first contact. If you call a tutor/tutress from an Ad on newspaper, a tutor/tutress will come to your house. But he/she will look somehow nervous, as if, he/she is in disguise.

After all, he/she will talk to you in an smart manner. If you ask about his/her university or college name, he/ she will answer according to the Ad that he /she study in Dhaka University or BUET or NSU nowhere else. Because his/her Ad was in a fraud name and institution, and he/ she is well trained by the tuition medias. If you ask about his/ her university Hall or hostel in which he/ she stay in, he/ will be more nervous, all though, he/she will tell a room number. If you tell that you will meet him/ her at his/her Hall/hostel tomorrow, he/ she will not come or contact ever, if he/she is appointed.

Most of the tuition Ads on newspapers are media Ads. And they supply fraud tutors. You can not detect them because they talk in a smart manner. Here, they use a mobile number or contact number of their own. This mobile number or contact number cannot be given to the tutor. As a result, the tutor must give you his/ her mobile number. And does this ,at last, while leaving your house. And after then, that mobile number used in Ad is found to be off for at least two weeks.

This is the key point, if a tutor/tutress tries to give you a mobile number other than the one he used in his Ads, he/she is a fraud tutor/tutress.

Remember, a student does not use a T&T number as their contact number.
